Washington Environmental Council is a nonprofit, statewide advocacy organization that has been driving positive change to solve Washington's most critical environmental challenges since 1967. Our mission is to protect, restore, and sustain Washington's environment for all.

In our vision for a healthy environment in Washington, we strive to achieve...

Clean air, a thriving clean energy economy, and reduced climate pollution

Abundant, clean water in Puget Sound and its watersheds, and reduced water pollution from our communities

Healthy forests with trees that grow old to provide habitat, space for recreation, and jobs for our rural communities

A transition from fossil fuel infrastructure to investment in clean energy technologies
